Since November 2015, when JLDM Library started to celebrate book week. Some are asking the importance of this celebration. The reasons why we celebrate this is to promote the reading of good books or electronic books (e-book) because it is the most effective methods of bringing enlightenment to the university community, and give importance to the resources that the library acquired for them.

“Reading is essential for those who seek to rise above the ordinary.”

- Jim Rohn

November 18-22, 2019, the John Lawrence Detwiler Memorial Library celebrated the 5th Book week. With the theme: “Inclusive, Innovative, Interconnected”. We have partnered with Forefront Book Co., Inc., Belview Co., Inc., and Adlib International Sales, Inc. to make this event possible.

This celebration was participated by the Forefront Book Co., Inc., Belview Co., Inc., Adlib International Sales, Inc., Britannica digital learning, EBSCOhost, Library and Information Science Department, Ma’am Miriam Torres, and the JLDM Library as a host.

November 18, 2019, the first part of the celebration was opened by a devotional by Dr. Salvador T. Molina, Vice President for Student Services. The second part of the program is Ribbon Cutting and opening ceremony participated by the administrator, faculty, library staff, students and visitors.

We invited the pupils from AUP-Elementary and Hilltop Adventist Elementary Schools, inc. To be a part of this momentous event. Teacher Meriam “Yham” Torres, Kinder Teacher from AUP-Elementary did the energetic storytelling, mini theater play and puppet show. The pupils including the parents are very happy with the presentation. Afterwards, they tour inside the library to promote readings to these little angels.

Community Extension Activity

John Lawrence Detwiler Memorial Library visited the nearby Brgy. Puting Kahoy and conducted a community extension activity. These are the activities given to the children: Story-telling, games, and reading materials for the parents or guardians of the children. After the activity, JLDLM Library staff provided healthy snacks.

Book Review

By: Sheena B. Aquino

Y ou long for love and happiness.

But so often you are blocked from satisfying that longing. What are the barriers?

Why are they so troublesome? How does spirituality play a role? This book explores the region between faith and unbelief where your hopes and doubts mingle. The author cites freely her own experiences and sets out the questions all face--questions about significance, meaning, love, life and truth, the search for encouragement and security. In this revised and updated edition, she squarely engages your uncertainty, disappointment, longing for fulfillment, and the reality of pain and suffering. Such realism rings in the stories she tells and in the ideas she explores. In doing so she leads you beyond the search for your own significance to the reasons you have for your hope of discovering God.
